EV900 Model

When it comes to spreading abrasives, you can count on the EV900, the most versatile V-shape bucket on the market. With the unique design of our reversible V-tank, we can offer several configurations for the EV900.

Moreover, our side conveyor was designed to hold a second reel, thus allowing you to proceed with spreading from the left, the right, or even both sides at once, without any modifications. Finally a versatile and well-thought-out spreader!

The round sieve of the EV900 offers superior rigidity and is equipped with an easy-to-open, lightweight and very safe built-in hatch.

It can be slipped directly onto the existing body of your truck, installed on the wing frame or secured with our popular and unique quick coupling attachment system, which fits on the fifth wheel of your tractor.
